INVITATION EXTENDED — Herman Maderias (left) representing Washington Township Chamber of Commerce, receives an invitation from Leo Baum (Center) to the Cavalcade, an entertainment feature of the Alameda County Fair that opens a 16-day run starting Friday at Pleasanton. The Cavalcade will be staged Friday, Saturday and Sunday, at 8:15 p.m. Looking on is Supervisor Chester E. Stanley.

CENTERVILLE C.C. REQUESTS STUDY OF CORO REPORT

At the Monday noon meeting of the Centerville Chamber of Commerce it was voted to (1) request the Washington Township Chamber to set up a Township wide committee to study the Coro Foundation report on incorporation and make recommendations concerning incorporation of the township or any portion thereof; (2) request Supervisor Chester E. Stanley to clarify his stand on the Southern bay bridge crossing; (3) write to Senators William F. Knowland and Thomas H. Kuchel and Rep. George P. Miller asking them to support congressional action to expedite the Southern crossing.

The motion made by Secretary LeRoy Broun requesting the Coro study does not imply that the Centerville Chamber is advocating incorporation. The Coro report was merely a fact-finding project, and the township chamber should study the data, Broun said.

President Romeo Brunelli emphasized the fact that the committee suggested by Broun should represent all communities in the township. He urged greater intercommunity cooperation.

Broun, who instigated the Coro survey, asserted that "we could save 60 cents on the tax rate by incorporating," in view of the new law which makes it possible for the rural areas to be taxed for streets, lights, police and other services now received from the county.

Lee Williams suggested that incorporation could be considered later if such taxes materialize and prove prohibitive. Mrs. Evelyn Perkins questioned that incorporation would decrease taxes and suggested that local residents work more closely with county supervisors.

Manning Resigns Township Post

Members of the Washington Township Chamber of Commerce voted Tuesday night to accept the resignation of Dr. Eugene Manning as executive secretary of the Chamber. This action followed a very stormy session, during which Dr. Manning felt compelled to leave after finding himself the center of a very heated argument.

No vote was taken on the "joint secretary" issue as had been planned. Instead, an eight-man committee, one from each town, was appointed with Vernon Ellsworth as head to make a complete study of the secretary replacement.

The Chamber voted to take Decoto back after their letter of application last month.

A suggestion made by the Centerville Chamber that the Township Chamber appoint a committee to study the Coro report was vetoed. It was felt that each town should make their own study and investigation.

Walter Chrysler suggested that the Township Chamber might add to its finances by selling memberships to merchants and industry in the area, giving more operating money.

KENNETH GARCIA NEW PRESIDENT OF DEMO CLUB

Kenneth Garcia of Decoto was elected president of the newly-formed Washington Township Democratic Club at an election of officers held in the Washington Union High School auditorium Friday.

The election of president and seven other officers followed the adoption of by-laws, proposed, considered, amended, and finally approved by the township-wide membership after an hour-long discussion. According to the new governing code of the club, officers will serve one calendar year.

"I wish to thank you for your undivided confidence in me," said Garcia upon accepting the leadership post. "You can be certain that I will work hard and diligently to serve you with the best of my ability."

Garcia promised to make the club the focal point for eevryone interested in the aims of the Democratic Club in the Township. He plans to invite outstanding speakers for future meetings to keep members informed of the political scene—local, state and national.

Guest speaker was Leonard Dieden, vice-chairman of the Eighth Congressional District of the State Central Committee.

Other officers elected were: R. E. O'Flaherty, Irvington; Mrs. Doris Rolerson, Niles; Miss Marjorie Callow, Newark, and Paul Power, Centerville, vice-presidents; Mrs. Galye Stepp, Niles, secretary; Raymond F. Marsh, Hillview Crest, treasurer; and Gordon Greb, press secretary.

Centerville National Guard Battery Fires Cannon; To Return Sunday

(Special to The Register)

CAMP HUNTER LIGGETT. — Washington Township National Guardsmen were putting the finishing touches on two weeks of rugged field soldiering today at this huge training camp west of King City.

Nine young members of Battery C, 629th Field Artillery Battalion, will return home by truck on Sunday, tanned and hard from life in the open.

They are members of a unit which will move to Centerville on August 1, in an armory which formerly was an icehouse at the end of Alder Avenue.

Last Saturday, all nine took part in an impressive mounted review of the 49th National Guard Division's troops. Riding in 2½-ton trucks, the guardsmen towed the 105-mm. howitzers which make up the battalion's armament.

Viewing the parade by invitation of the battalion commander, Maj. Stuart Nixon of Niles, were Romeo Brunelli, president of the Centerville Chamber of Commerce, and Maurice B. Marks, president of the Washington Township Chamber.

Brunelli and Marks said they were struck by the smart appearance of the troops. They pledged their support to establishment of the new unit in Centerville.

National Guardsmen all hold civilian jobs 50 weeks out of the year, and devote one night each of those 50 weeks to training for national defense. The remaining two weks, they put their skills to practical use, operating in the field just as regular Army units do.

The nine men, who will be the nucleus of the Centerville batterys, are: brothers Tom and Bob O'Bryant, Richard Fragulia, Joe Wiltz, Allan Olk and Bob Lunsford of Newark; Gary Allegre of Niles, Ray Ruiz of Hillview Crest, and John Perez of Irvington.

They returned last Friday from a five-day recruit training stint. "Oh boy, did we march!" Olk commented.

After working hours some of the recruits were given rides in the battalion's light "grasshopper" planes to see the camp from the air.

Food at the camp was pronounced excellent by all the local youths.

A typical day's menu features fried eggs for breakfast, fried chicken for lunch, and hamburger steak for supper. All agree there is plenty of it, too.

Over the week-end, the troops were allowed to go on pass to King City, Salinas, Monterey, Paso Robles, San Luis Obispo, and neighboring towns.

On Monday, the battalion fired 100 rounds of 105-mm. shells into a target area behind a range of hills. Further firing Tuesday gave more preparation for the regular Army's battery test, something each unit points at all year. The test is slated for today.

The truck convoy leaves Camp Hunter Liggett in the dawn hours Sunday.

PORCHLIGHTS FOR CEREBRAL PALSY

In conjunction with the Cerebral Palsy Telethon that will be taking place at the Oakland Auditorium starting June 26, the mothers of Washington Township will be helping in their own communities.

Heading their committees are Mrs. Mary Cardoza of Decoto, Mrs. Mary Rodriques, Centerville; Mrs. Edith Harklehead, Hillview Crest; Mrs. Evelyn Rose, Warm Springs, and Mrs. Lois Bottenberg of Mission

Decoto will march on the night of June 26, and the other towns will be making their appeals on June 26 and 27.

The committee members are requesting that residents leave their porch lights on on one of these evenings. Though the telethon at the auditorium starts on June 26, it is expected to go on till Sunday.

UNITED CRUSADE DRIVE DISCUSSED

Plans for the Fall United Crusade drive in Washington township will be discussed during a cabinet luncheon meeting of various township leaders and Chairman Peter Juhl.

Set for July 7 in International Kitchen, the group will include Harry Weber, commercial chairman; Mrs. Bruce Michael, residential; Arthur Belshaw, chairman for businesses employing 10 to 50 persons; J. A. Ratekin, 50 to 100 employees; Harlan Bradley, over 100 employees; Maurice Marks, publicity.

COUNTY FAIR TO OPEN TOMORROW

Centered around a Centennial theme, the Alameda County Fair will open tomorrow, Friday June 26 at Pleasonton. For sixteen days people will be able to view a versatile array of exhibits and products of agricculture, home economics farm implements, floriculture, horticulture, art and photography, livestock and the very important 4-H and Future Farmer departments.

Several innovations will be noticed. A huge waterfall will greet visitors as they enter the grounds through the floriculture building. The new grandstand has seating capacity for 7500, and 30 acres of grassed parking space has been added.

The Cenntenial Cavalcade will be presented three nights, June 26 through the 28th. A cast of 300 will portray the county's historical cultural and economical growth since 1853. The scenet will start with the founding of Mission San Jose, the first settlement here in 1797, and wind up with the historic trans-Pacific flights in 1927 from the Oakland Municipal Airport. Included also will be some of the Essanay films made in Nilesi and the Alameda County Sheriff's Posse wall appear many times.

Always a highlight is the Fair's sport event, 14 days of parimutuel racing . . . The race track will also be the locale of the annual horse show on Sunday, June 28.

Niles Spotter Post Planned

Tech. Sergeant McKinnon of the Oakland Filter Center of the Ground Observer Corp spoke before the Niles Chamber of Commerce at their Tuesday luncheon meeting, outlining the plan for a ground-observer post in Niles.

As a result of his talk, the local town council of Civilian Defense will meet next week to make appointment of a supervisor, discuss location of the post, and make plans to recruit volunteers. According to Bain Leask, director of Niles Civilian Defense, the post will not be a possibility until these arrangements have been made.

Newark District Program Planned

The Newark Recreation District trustees met June 18 at the Newark Youth Center. Present at the meeting were members of the board of trustees, Jud Taylor, Lillian Costa and Norma Willburn; members of the Youth Center Association board of directors, Richard Texera, Alex DeKnoop, William Beck, Ken Foster and Mrs. Ray Auchard. Others present were Robert Lamp, Shyrle Rice, Catherine Sammon and Robert Amaral.

Ken Foster presented the district with a check for $400 from the Youth Center. The district now has $600, including $100 from the Chamber of Commerce and $100 from the Women's Improvement Club, and will receive the proceeds from the Snow Animal Show, sponsored by the Newark PTA, which will take place Friday... One thousand dollars is needed to continue the recreation program through the summer.

Recreation Director Lamp suggested changing hours to 12 to 8 as there are not many children on the grounds before noon and older boys come after supper. The playground is most crowded between 1 and 4 o'clock, with the peak about 2 o'clock. Lamp has received requests from adults to keep the playgorund open on Sunday, but this will not be possible this year.

The survey by the San Jose State Recreation Majors has been completed and compiled. It includes financing and administration organization. Plans for the playground include handball and facilities for adult games. These latter are not now available for Newark but will be added in later years.

In appreciation of the excellent work done by the San Jose State majors, Judson Taylor recommended establishing a fund at the college to be used when the class next plans a district for another town in hopes that each succeeding town will replenish the fund.

Mr. Lamp announced that two

BUILDING STARTED ON NEWARK HOMES

Architects Cliff May and Chris Choate flew in from Los Angeles yesterday morning to witness the beginning of forty new homes in Newark.

The homes, which are featured in the current issue of "Living for Young Home Makers," will be constructed on Sycamore Street and will be three bedroom, 2-bath homes of panel construction, according to Builder M. J. Terranova of San Mateo. Joe Nuland will be in charge of Newark construction.

These are the first of this type in this area, although construction will soon be started in San Lorenzo and Pleasanton. The first home is expected to be built in one day by a crew of five men. St. Francis Realty will handle sales.

Rats, mice, gophers and other rodents are the chief food source of the gray fox which abounds in California's foothill country.

One of the lightest, softest and most brittle of domestic woods in the United States is that of the big tree, Sequoia gigantae.

SUZY SEZ...

With summer vacation just beginning, already the little darlings are saying they have nothing to do. Arrange to have them help with the cooking. Even the youngest can stir together a pudding mix, and needs just a little help. The older children will want more elaborate cooking, and if the results are less than perfect, the cake baked by a ten-year-old tastes just wonderful with strawberries or ice cream to cover mistakes!

Those "roughing it" were Leroy Cardoza, Linley Welch, Ronnie Wright, Carl Cottingham, Mark Runnels, Raymond Kahler, Igor Skaredoff, Wiley Blacow, and Scout Leaders Leroy Brown, Ed Maughn and Ed Walters. The boys spent their first night out at the Dimond-O Camp in Yosemite. From there they traveled to Hetch Hetchy Dam and from the dam packed in to Laurel Lake, using pack horses to carry the food (nine miles from dam to lake). "Hobo 5:15", a bear six feet tall, was a daily visitor to the camp. Hobo arrived at the camp every morning at 5:15 to steal what he could and perhaps to satisfy his curiosity. According to Leroy Cardoza there was still snow on the ground and the boys were able to make a few snowballs.

MICHAEL HEADS AGENCY COMMITTEE

At a meeting last week of the Family and Child Welfare Division of the Council of Southern Alameda County Communities, Bruce Michael of Warm Springs was selected as chairman of a citizens' committee to formulate plans for organizing and establishing a non-sectarian Family Service Agency to serve Southern Alameda County.

This kind of agency gives counsel to many, particularly to young couples whose marriage is threatened by separation or divorce, child guidance, or helping older people face the problem of retirement. This type of agency, however, does not take the place of a public assistance department since it generally serves people who are financially independent, many of whom pay a nominal fee.

At the present time people living in Southern Alameda County have to go into Oakland for this kind of counseling and the Family Service Agency there has a long waiting list so that people with critical problems needing immediate attention are at a serious disadvantage which would not exist if Southern Alameda County had its own centrally located agency. This was brought out in the survey made by the committee.

Editor:

Being convinced that as near as is possible our giving to health and welfare agencies should be accomplished through one great Crusade Campaign, I have accepted the leadership in Washington Township.

To make this campaign the success expected of us will take several hundred workers and thousands of givers. We are now in the process of enlisting our workers for the fall Crusade. Many of the previous workers will again hit the line, but some new names are needed.

If you are old in the community and have been letting George do it, may I suggest that you drop me a note or give me a call. I'll give you a suitable place in our army of volunteers.

If you are new in the community there is no better way to get well acquainted than to get in on a worth while cause like the United Crusade. We'd love to have you.

How to make gasoline engines last longer

Keep your car engine and other gasoline engines filled with Heavy Duty RPM Motor Oil and drain crankcases regularly. This special oil, developed through atomic research, contains compounds which resist the causes of excessive wear.

A detergent loosens and removes carbon, gum and lacquer from cylinders, rings and other parts, holds all contaminants in suspension so they flow out with drainings. Other compounds in the oil resist oxidation and sludging, prevent corrosion and stop foaming. They also keep a constant film of oil on all parts, whether hot or cold, providing lubrication and protection against rusting in both running and idle engines.

GUARD AN ASSET TO TOWNSHIP

Word that the National Guard will establish a training center near Centerville has welcome implications for the Township.

At full strength, the part-time soldiers of C Battery will bring a payroll of $30,000 a year to local communities. In addition, they will be draft-exempt (providing they enlist before reaching 18½).

Even more important, young men who enlist in "Centerville's Own" artillery will be taught how to care for themselves in the event of a national emergency, and if war comes (and only if war comes), they will go away together, with friends from their home town, instead of with a parcel of strangers. That alone removes much of the unhappiness that comes with the break which military duty brings.

For employers, the news is welcome too. Young men nowadays, subject to draft call, are uncertain employees. The Guard unit here will provide a ready labor pool of youngsters who can get an uninterrupted start in business, while doing their military service at home.

Yes, Battery C will be welcome in Centerville and all the other towns here.

PETERING OUT

Like the end of the world in Eliot's poem, the war in Korea seems destined to end—not with a bang, but with a whimper. To an ironic conflict, perhaps it is a fitting finish. We find ourselves embarrased more by our friends, the South Koreans, than by our enemies, the Communists.

We can't pretend to say why this should be so, but our hunch is that a spineless attitude caused it. The way to fight a war is to fight it, not to apologize. We are afraid that the uneasy truce is only a preface to Red aggression somewhere else, and that public opinion in this country wouldn't support another intervention, fearing it would be like the one in Korea. Probaly that is what the Reds figure too.

THE SUPPORT WAS FORTHCOMING

We note with approval the landslide vote for the Niles School bonds, and as this is written, we'd bet Centerville gets its bond money too.

If there is anything outstanding among the many good things about our Township, it's the promptness with which voters here respond to appeals for improved education or public works.

Niles will now get a handsome, badly-needed second school—this one to care for youngsters in the east part of town, and to relieve intolerable pressure on the present school. Centerville is looking ahead to a third school, in the Glenmoor area.

The enthusiastic response is a mark of the progressive spirit here. Wherever that spirit prevails, a community proves to be a good place to live, to work, and to bring up children. Industries, take note!

FISH OR CUT BAIT

Seems like Centerville and some of the other chambers of commerce want the Township Chamber to hire a receptionist AND a field salesman too. Eating cake and having it too is a neat trick, but in this case it'll take some money.

As we ventured to point out last week, the money will have to come from the local chambers, like Centerville. Next step therefore should be to raise contributions to the central Chamber. There will be squawks. But look at it this way: anything worth having is worth paying for. If the Township Chamber isn't worth having, then it isn't worth the nominal contribution now paid by the town organizations.

'MYSTERY' ESCAPED A REBEL AMBUSH

(Our subject last week was Joe Ferry, Niles barber. Did you guess? Joe Mattos, former Niles resident, phoned from Truckee to say he knew. He was right, too. This week we tackle another spry member of the senior generation, but one who hasn't lived here as long as Joe. See if you come up with the answer before looking it up inside the paper.)

The trill of bugles and the roll of drums must have been in his blood when he was born, 72 years ago, in Loda, Illinois, a little town south of Chicago.

The Spanish-American War broke out when he was 17. His dad refused to let him join up. But the minute he was 18, our man was down at the recruiting office. First stop after that was—Manila!

The Insurrection was on. This meant hiking and skirmishes for our boy and his buddies. In one of the latter, his commanding officer, General Lawton, was killed when he rashly rode forward on a white horse. Finally our man and his company moved north to chase the rebels out of Cagayan Valley.

One morning twenty Americans, including our subject, found themselves surrounded by a huge force in the little town of Carig. It took them all day to fight out. In the process, several were killed and the leader, Sergeant Henry Schroeder, won the Congressional Medal.

"Later we nearly starved to death," says our subject. "But somehow nobody ever talked about it much."

He returned to the States in 1902 and was discharged. But eight months of Illinois farm life drove him back to the Army for good.

First came garrison duty in the Philippines, then two years in Alaska. "If you liked to hunt and fish, it was wonderful," he says. In World War I, he was commissioned a first lieutenant and sent to Ft. Sill, Okla., to instruct. Another officer there — though our man admits he doesn't remember him—was Capt. Harry Truman.

His son, now a figure in Township athletic and educational circles, was born there. His dad still calls him "Okie."

Our Mystery Man helped establish the Infantry School at Ft. Benning, Ga., then came to the University of California after the Armistice and instructed ROTC classes until he retired in 1924.

Then he and his family moved to Hayward, where he became a deputy county assessor. This second career, he says, can't compare with Army life — "too cut-and-dried"—but he stuck with it 22 years until his second retirement. Then, "looking for a smaller place to live," he came to Washington Township.

He is a past commander of the Hayward American Legion Post, of the Hayward United Spanish War Veterans, and is also a Mason. For several years he commanded a National Guard company in Hayward.

Now he dedicates himself to thorough enjoyment of life, and to tending his roses.

Guess Who?

ITALY'S MODEL MODEL — Iliria Pompili, above, has been named "Italy's Top Model for 1952." The American beauty experts who judged the contest have awarded Iliria a trip to this country, where she will spend at least a month some time during 1953.

This summer weather has brought the door-to-door salesmen out in droves. We who live in tract homes are usually bothered the most. A tip to the housewife is to read everything carefully before signing. Better yet, check with a local merchant, who will be here to back up his sale, which many of the quick salesmen will not do. One example of the high pressure act is that of a group that represents themselves as a veterans' organization, but a little research revealed that they are organized only to further sales of their particular service.

Along with other Centerville residents, I hurried to get my mail box ready and have even received "letters" from our youngest. Now we hear it is going to be another month before mail comes deiveredl to our doors. I suppose we are lucky at that, as when we moved here to Orchard Park, we were promised delivery by summer. Summer, 1951, that is. A few more months won't matter, now that the goal is in sight.
